Each and every community has their own Official Community Plans (OCP) and Land Use By-laws (LUB). These OCP and LUB went through hours and hours and hours of public consultation in each community, some of them taking a year or more to complete. Many of these are quite different from each other depending on the needs and wishes of the community. This new policy statement will deter these OCP's & LUBs from having their individuality. The original policy statement allowed for this flexibility. The new one does not appear to.
