I would like to see some of the results from this survey. There are questions that seek opinion on climate change can only be answered from very restrictive and limited experience. Climate change is very real and will continue to affect us, but to ask what changes people see on Gabriola is to seek a very limited snap shot of personal experience.

How many people here today can compare the cold of the '72/'73 winter with the snowfalls of '90, or the cold of '96? Or the Heavey rain and storms and flooding of December '94? Or the extended dry season and shut down of summer '74?
