Hello Susan, Tobi and Laura

The following announcement below and with the announcement of DRIPA revisions by the Province of British Columbia, the Islands Trust should in my opinion suspend all revisions of the Islands Trust mandate and the Gabriola OCP review until the electorate is fully informed of what changes the Province is making to the legislation.

Yes it has been a long process thus far, however pushing legislation through at the local level before senior Government has made decisions on extremely important issues would be a disservice to your electorate.

Regards
Gavin Coford
